WE ARE MALIA

I have always collected beautiful candles and bought them on a whim to escape a rainy afternoon, to set the mood in the living room or simply to buy a gorgeous gift. Much to my disappointment many candles that have inspired me have not offered natural options and as someone who is adverse to strong scents, I found that several items in the market were too strong to my and my daughters' liking. I wanted to create affordable luxury items that are soft, natural and welcoming. Having gorgeous, natural scents in your home should not be an investment and that is what we thrive to accomplish. The best luxury candle makers and the best ingredients, future classics that are both beautiful and relatable.

MALIA is inspired by our two little girls that inspire us daily with their curiosity, beauty and realness. This is what we want MALIA to be as well – the embodiment of real and natural, beautiful and soothing. The best life has to offer home and away, the perfect moments in an imperfect, dreamy world. Get real, be natural.

Our brand continues to evolve and grow, bringing fresh new elements and products into the natural lifestyle. Elements and products we would like to shop and use ourselves Honoring the best of both worlds; the French craftsmanship of luxury candles and the benefits of natural pure ingredients.
